NEWS RELEASEFraserPapers*Fraser Papers Expands Specialty Print Offering with SFI Certified Custom Snowcote
Filmcoated Opaque Paper that Delivers Lightweight, High Opacity and Printability

(All financial references are in US dollars unless otherwise noted)

Toronto, ON (October 1, 2007) – Fraser Papers Inc. ("Fraser Papers" or the "Company") (TSX:FPS) announced today that it has launched Custom Snowcote, a filmcoated lightweight opaque paper that delivers opacity, strength and printability. Targeting book publishing, manuals, reference books, bibles, dictionaries and financial publications, Custom Snowcote is engineered with a pigmented coating that allows for sharp image and text printing as well as accurate four-colour reproduction.

"Knowing our legacy for product innovation in the lightweight arena, publishers have been asking for a high opaque paper that minimizes show-through, provides a yield advantage, results in sharp print quality and delivers the strength and consistency required for demanding applications," said Matt Nightingale, Director of Marketing and Business Development of Fraser Papers. "Custom Snowcote meets those needs and then some. Because of our high fibre-to-pigment ratio, we have higher bulk than non-filmcoated competitors. Additionally, we have built a service platform that meets the market need for quick turnaround on orders."

Available in 30 lb., 32 lb., 35 lb., 38 lb. and 40 lb., Custom Snowcote is a lightweight filmcoated freesheet paper manufactured alkaline for improved archival properties. It is made in Fraser Papers' Madawaska, Maine paper mill, which is certified to the Sustainable Forestry Initiative ("SFI") Standard. Additionally, Custom Snowcote can be made with post-consumer waste up to 20% upon request.

"Increasingly, our customers are focusing on environmental and social issues within the supply chain and are looking for like-minded paper manufacturers," added Jim Gehrman, General Sales Manager of Fraser Papers. "Custom Snowcote is SFI certified and labeled, assuring customers the fibre used comes from well managed forests. If customers choose to add recycled content, Custom Snowcote becomes one of the greenest papers on the market."

Custom Snowcote is part of a versatile line of the Company's opaque papers – Custom Supreme, Custom Brite and Custom Plus – engineered for performance, SFI certified and available in a full range of brightness levels, shades, finishes and bulking characteristics.

Fraser Papers Supplies Environmentally-Friendly Paper for Second Printing of "Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows"

Toronto, ON (October 12, 2007) – Fraser Papers Inc. ("Fraser Papers" or the "Company") (TSX:FPS) announced today that it had been selected to provide environmentally-friendly paper for the second printing of the U.S. edition of Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows, the seventh book in the series by J.K. Rowling. Fraser Papers was a key supplier to Scholastic, the global children's publishing, education and media company, for the first printing of the book, which was released in July. The paper manufactured for Scholastic was customized and contained 30% post-consumer content and pulp certified by the Forest Stewardship Council ("FSC"), an internationally recognized organization driving responsible international forest management standards.

"This is perhaps one of the 'greenest' papers you can get on the market today. The post-consumer content diverts waste from landfills, while the FSC certification ensures that the pulp was not procured from endangered or high conservation value forests," said Brian McAlary, Vice President, Sales and Marketing of Fraser Papers. "We were able to add a new component that has strong international credibility."

In addition to environmentally-friendly paper, the Harry Potter order required a strong service platform. Fraser Papers coordinated delivery of paper to printers across North America and established a just-in-time inventory program to meet the rigorous launch requirements.

A leading supplier to the North American trade book market, Fraser Papers is known for manufacturing specialty uncoated freesheet papers with exceptional bulking characteristics, high opacity to prevent show-through and shade matching capabilities for consistency of color. In addition to Scholastic, Fraser Papers supplies other leading book publishers in North America.
